About the Institute

National Institute of Technology Puducherry (NITPy) nestled in the scenes of Karaikal, a coastal town in the basin of river Kaveri. It is one of the ten new NITs started by MHRD, Govt. of India in the year 2010. Notwithstanding the tender age, NITPy is committed to produce effective and responsible scientists and engineers who have the ability to serve the nation on its prosperous journey. The institute provides ample freedom and state of art facilities to the students and faculties for moulding themselves into professionally balanced individuals who are capable enough to take up challenges of nature, of society and of the marketplace. Faculties and students are having experience in modern and up-to-date scientific developments. NITPy also enjoys the status “An Institute of National Importance” given by MHRD, Govt. of India, New Delhi.

About the Department

The Department of Chemistry at NITPy started in the year 2013 and presently offering regular academic courses for the undergraduate engineering students in the field of basic and applied chemistry. The Chemistry laboratory at NITPy has state of art facilities to conduct basic and advanced research studies. At present a research project sponsored by DST-SERB, New Delhi is underway on development of Nanomaterials for Electroanalytical Applications.

About the Workshop

This workshop aims to create a common platform among young and seasoned academics to discuss about recent advancements in the fields of Nanotechnology, Materials Science and Energy. This workshop will provoke the path for researchers, academicians, industrialists and students to learn about the advancements in different kinds of multifunctional applications.

Objectives

- ❖ To learn the basics of Nanoscience & Technology.
- ❖ To understand the advancements in Material Science.
- ❖ To discuss the various applications of Nanomaterials.

Who Can Attend

- ❖ M.Sc/M.Tech Students
- ❖ Ph.D Scholars
- ❖ Early Carrier Academics

Important Dates

Last Date for Registration : 03/04/2017
Intimation of Selection : 06/04/2017
